Honesdale, PA

Dear Sally:

In the course of my research over the past twenty-five or more years on several branches of my mother's family, I have acquired and synthesized a large quantity of data on (1) the Pioneer Day celebrations held in Clinton Township in the period 1915-2006, and (2) the Clinton Center Baptist Church, 1831-2006. A large quantity of that data is presented in the present volume.

The sequence of pages in this volume is, to the best of my ability, meaningful. The pagination is coherent, although not conventional. Given the fact that the material presented in this volume is a part of a larger work in progress on my mother's ancestors, I have deliberately inserted blank pages here and there in order to be able to insert data that is learned as my work progresses.

Given the importance of Clinton Township in the history of Wayne County, it is important that a copy of this material be in the archives of Wayne County. Here, then, is a copy for the Wayne County Historical Society of the May 1, 2008 edition of Pioneer Day Celebrations Held in Clinton Township, Wayne County, PA, 1915-2006, To Which Has Been Appended the History of the Clinton Center Baptist Church, 1831-2006 by S. Robert Powell.
